My Best Friend Books!

3
 Since I was a very little girl when I was around 3 years old we have played and we have had fun and we even went against each other in our end of year play.

I can always trust her and she can always trust me. Even though we are now at different schools and have different friends we don't care all we care about is that we stay friends and that we can tell each other anything.

Try to split us up,
 don't you dare!!!

We both love acting and we both love singing. We are always there for each other. We both love singing and we both love singing. We are always there for each other. We both love singing and we will always be buddies!
